

The Purpose of Mission Alive:

To equip church planting leaders to plant missional communities with unbelievers as the primary focus and to partner with churches for missional renewal and church planting.

"Mission Alive is an important training system that brings a distinctly missional interpretation to the task of training church planters. I am honored to be associated with it."

Alan Hirsch, author of Shaping of Things to Come, Forgotten Ways and ReJesus, and Founding Director of Forge Mission Training Network

Equipping Leaders in Discipleship and Mission

Leaders who experience Mission Training will:

- Grow in their relationship with God.
- Learn to lead searchers to the Lord.
- Develop skills for making disciples.
- Deepen their theological frameworks for discipleship and mission.
- Be prepared to lead missional communities.
- Create a pipeline in their churches for developing leaders.
- Be equipped to participate in a regional network of discipleship and mission.

MISSION TRAINING

North America is a mission field.

The culture is increasingly post-Christian.

Many churches are inwardly focused, plateaued or dying. God is calling the church to become a missionary community - entering into the world just as God in Jesus took on flesh and moved into the neighborhood.

Mission Training is designed to help churches follow Jesus into the mission field.

Mission Alive entered into our journey with God and not only began equipping us in theologically informed, practical ways, but helped us develop disciples and leaders along the way. Mission Alive has become a sort of extended family to our church family.

Fred Liggin, Lead Minister, Williamsburg Christian Church, Williamsburg, Virginia

Mission Training is a two-year process, consisting of four, two-day Equipping Labs that occur every six months. Each Equipping Lab addresses a major topic related to planting and renewing churches.

Mission Alive helped us turn our dream into reality. The training and coaching gave us courage, expanded our vision, and provided us the nuts and bolts to put the vision into action on the ground.

Kevin Vance, Church Planter, Gentle Road Church of Christ, Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada
